Glimps of the camp.

Student volunteers had organized a camp in association with Bangalore Medical Services Trust. It was a student-coordinated event where students took the initiative right from contacting different hospitals, rotary clubs, Red Cross and other organizations to set up a camp. The camp started with great enthusiasm. Two days before itself the camp registration had started and students registered themselves for the donation.

There were 100+ registration and after few rejections, we were able to collect 74 units of blood. The process included filling up the details, medical history, checking of the blood sample and finally donation of blood by eligible students. Overall it was a successful event conducted and driven by students end to end.
