Best Out of Waste

ISME, Campus at 2.30 pm

Event Report

On June 21, 2019, ISME demonstrated its commitment to sustainability and creativity through the "Best Out of Waste" event, which engaged 35 students in transforming everyday materials into innovative creations. Participants showcased their ingenuity by repurposing discarded items to create new and useful objects, such as artwork, decor, and functional items. Through their resourcefulness and imagination, they not only highlighted the importance of waste reduction but also inspired others to adopt eco-friendly practices.

The "Best Out of Waste" event at ISME exemplified the university's dedication to fostering environmental consciousness and promoting creative thinking among its students. By encouraging participants to see potential in overlooked materials, the event not only contributed to waste reduction but also nurtured a culture of innovation and sustainability on campus. It served as a reminder of the transformative power of creativity and resourcefulness in addressing environmental challenges, leaving a positive impact on both participants and observers.
