Event Report

On August 10, 2020, a seminar on "Up Skilling of Online Teaching and Learning in Higher Education" was conducted, featuring esteemed resource persons Prof. Venkataramaniah, Prof. Shipra Maitra, Prof. Bharathi, and Prof. Nithin Garg. The seminar addressed the pressing need for educators to adapt to the online teaching landscape, especially in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic, which has significantly impacted traditional modes of education delivery. Professors Venkataramaniah, Maitra, Bharathi, and Garg provided valuable insights and strategies to enhance online teaching methodologies, catering to the evolving needs and challenges of higher education in the digital era.

During the seminar, participants engaged in discussions and workshops aimed at upskilling educators in various aspects of online teaching and learning. Professors Venkataramaniah, Maitra, Bharathi, and Garg emphasized the importance of leveraging technology to create engaging and interactive online learning environments. They explored innovative approaches to curriculum design, assessment methods, and student engagement strategies tailored specifically for online platforms. Furthermore, the resource persons highlighted the significance of continuous professional development and collaborative efforts among educators to effectively navigate the transition to online education.

As a result of the seminar, participants gained valuable insights and practical strategies to enhance their proficiency in online teaching and learning. The event facilitated knowledge sharing and networking opportunities, enabling educators to exchange best practices and address common challenges in transitioning to online education. Overall, the seminar on "Up Skilling of Online Teaching and Learning in Higher Education" proved to be a valuable initiative in empowering educators to adapt to the evolving landscape of higher education and deliver quality learning experiences in online environments.
